

Cookie Policy

Dear visitor, Greif welcomes you to the website www.greifproduktion.it (hereinafter, the "Site") and invites you to pay attention to the following information, issued pursuant to Regulation (EU) No. 2016/679 (hereinafter, "GDPR") and Legislative Decree No. 196/2003, as amended by Legislative Decree No. 101/2018 (collectively, the "Privacy Policy").

This document contains a description of all data processing carried out by the Data Controller (hereinafter, also, the "Controller") through the Site.

1. Who is the Data Controller

The Data Controller of the data collected through the installation of cookies is Greif Produktion S.r.l. (hereinafter, the "Company"), with registered office in Via Cassa di Risparmio 5, 39100, Bolzano (BZ), Italy, in the person of its legal representative pro tempore, domiciled for the purposes of this information at the registered office of the Company, telephone or fax number 0471 973968.

2. What personal data we process

Navigation data

The computer systems and software procedures used to operate the Site acquire, during their normal operation, some personal data whose transmission is implicit in the communication protocols of the Internet. This is information that by their very nature could, through processing and association with data held by third parties, allow users to be identified.

This category of data includes IP addresses or domain names of computers used by users who connect to the Site, URI (Uniform Resource Identifier) of requested resources, the time of the request, the method used to submit the request to the server, the size of the file obtained in reply, the numerical code indicating the status of the response from the server (successful, error, etc..) and other parameters regarding the operating system and computer environment.

These data are used only to obtain anonymous statistical information on the use of the Site and to check its correct functioning and are deleted after processing. The data could be used to ascertain responsibility in case of hypothetical computer crimes against the Site.

Cookies

Cookies are small text strings that are sent by a website to the browser used by the user during navigation, stored on the device (e.g. computer, tablet, smartphone) and retransmitted to the same site the next time the user visits. Cookies are installed on the user's device for a certain period of time and are deleted, depending on the case, either at the end of the period itself or at the end of the browsing session.

Depending on the subject that manages them, they are divided into two categories:

- First-party cookies: when they are managed directly by the owner/manager of the website;
- Third-party cookies: when they are managed by a third party unrelated to the site visited.

What type of cookies do we use?

Technical cookies

The Site makes use of technical cookies. The use of technical cookies is functional to guarantee the user the maximum experience in navigating and using the Site and some of its functions. Failure to install them may limit or prevent access to certain services on the Site or options requested by the user. In particular, one of the purposes of technical cookies is to store and keep track of the user's consent to the use of cookies.

The installation and use of this type of cookie does not require the user's consent; however, the user always has the option of blocking or removing technical cookies by accessing his or her browser settings and directly modifying the cookie configuration. This choice, however, may limit or prevent access to certain areas of the Site or the use of certain services offered by the same.

Third-party analytical cookies

The Site makes use of third party analytical cookies. The purpose of these types of cookies is to monitor users' use of the Website and to ensure that it is optimised. By way of example, analytical cookies are used to collect and analyse aggregate information for statistical analysis on access and visits to the Site. The third party analytical cookie does not belong to the domain of our company, but the third party cookie provider is obliged to comply with the regulations in force.

The user will be able to consent to the installation and use of this type of cookie after having taken note of the short information in the banner at the time of first access to the Site, simply by continuing to navigate the Site itself. It is understood that the user always has the possibility to block or remove analytical cookies by accessing the settings of his browser and directly modifying the configuration of the installation/use of cookies.

Below are the analytical cookies used by the Site and the relative links to the privacy policies of the third party, through which the user can access the information regarding the use of said cookies:

- o Google Analytics: this is a Google Inc. tool which - through the collection of aggregate and anonymous information - allows statistical analysis of access to the Site, also in order to improve its performance.

For further information on Google Analytics, please visit:

<https://developers.google.com/analytics/devguides/collection/analyticsjs/cookie-usage>

- o Vimeo: These cookies are installed through Vimeo's embedded videos. They record statistics on how users view the videos and their viewing settings.

No user-identifying information is stored unless the visitor accessing the video content is logged into their Vimeo account and it is active. In this case, the preferences expressed are linked to the user's Vimeo account, for example liking a video or saving it as a favorite.

Third-party profiling cookies

The Site may use third-party profiling cookies. Third-party profiling cookies allow third parties to collect data relating to the use of content on the Site and to build a profile based on the preferences expressed by the user during navigation.

The user will be able to give his consent to the installation and use of this type of cookie after having taken note of the brief information in the banner at the time of the first access to the Site, simply by continuing to navigate the Site itself. It is understood that the user has the possibility at any time to deny or revoke the consent given to the installation and use of third party profiling cookies by accessing the settings of his browser and directly modifying the configuration of the installation/use of cookies.

This list indicates the third-party profiling cookies used by the Site and the links through which the user can access the information relating to the management of data by third parties:

- o Social buttons: The social buttons used on the Site allow the social network, to which the icon refers, to acquire data relating to the visit. Through the use of these buttons are therefore installed third-party cookies, including profiling. For more information click the following link:

3. For what purposes your personal data will be processed and what is the legal basis of the treatment

Your personal data will be processed by the Owner to manage the Site, to perform anonymous statistical analysis on the use of the Site, to check its correct functioning and/or to ascertain responsibility in case of hypothetical computer crimes against the Site. In any case, such data will be treated anonymously and will be deleted immediately after processing. The legal basis of the processing is the legitimate interest of the Data Controller to ensure the proper use of the Site and to prevent any possible computer crime, in accordance with Article 6(1)(f) of the GDPR.

4. How your personal data will be processed

The processing of your personal data will take place, in compliance with the provisions of the privacy legislation, through paper, computer and telematic tools, with logic strictly related to the purposes indicated in paragraph 3 and, in any case, with methods suitable to ensure the security and confidentiality in accordance with the provisions of Article 32 of the GDPR.

5. To which subjects your personal data may be communicated and who may become aware of them

For the pursuit of the purposes described in paragraph 3 above, your personal data will be known by employees, assimilated personnel and collaborators of the Owner. In addition, your personal data will be communicated and processed by third parties belonging to the following categories:

- subjects of which the Owner makes use for the management of the Site;
- companies that manage the Owner's computer system;
- companies and consultants who provide legal and/or fiscal advice;
- authorities and supervisory and control bodies and, in general, public or private entities with public functions.

A complete and updated list of the subjects to whom your personal data may be communicated can be requested at the registered office of the Data Controller.

Your personal data will not be transferred to third parties outside the European Union and are not subject to dissemination.

6. What rights do you have as data subject

In relation to the processing described in this statement, as a data subject, you may, under the conditions provided by the privacy legislation, exercise the rights enshrined in Articles 15 to 21 of the GDPR and in particular:

- Right of access - Article 15 of the GDPR: right to obtain confirmation of whether or not personal data concerning you are being processed and, if so, to obtain access to your personal data;

- Right of rectification - Article 16 of the GDPR: the right to obtain, without undue delay, the rectification of inaccurate personal data concerning you and/or the integration of incomplete personal data;
- Right to erasure (right to be forgotten) - Article 17 of the GDPR: right to obtain, without undue delay, the erasure of personal data concerning you. The right to erasure does not apply to the extent that the processing is necessary for the performance of a legal obligation or for the performance of a task carried out in the public interest or for the establishment, exercise or defense of legal claims;
- Right to restriction of processing - Article 18 of the GDPR: right to obtain the restriction of processing in cases expressly provided for in the GDPR;
- Right to data portability - Article 20 of the GDPR: the right to receive, in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable format, the personal data concerning you provided to the Controller and the right to transmit them to another controller without hindrance, if the processing is based on consent and is carried out by automated means. In addition, the right to have your personal data transmitted directly by the Controller to another controller if this is technically feasible;
- Right to object - Article 21 of the GDPR: the right to object, at any time, to the processing of personal data concerning you, unless there are legitimate reasons for the Controller to continue the processing;
- Right to complain to the supervisory authority - right to complain to the Guarantor Authority for the protection of personal data (www.garanteprivacy.it), Piazza di Montecitorio n. 121, 00186, Rome (RM), Italy.

The rights referred to in this point may be exercised in relation to the Data Controller by sending a request to the references indicated in point 1 above or to the e-mail address info@greifproduktion.it. The Data Controller will take charge of your request and provide you, without undue delay and, in any case, no later than one month from receipt of the same, with information relating to the action taken with regard to your request.

The exercise of your rights as a data subject is free of charge pursuant to Article 12 of the GDPR. However, in the case of manifestly unfounded or excessive requests, also due to their repetitiveness, the Data Controller may charge you a reasonable expense contribution, in light of the administrative costs incurred in handling your request, or deny satisfaction of your request. Finally, we inform you that the Controller may request additional information necessary to confirm your identity.

7. How to refuse the use of cookies

As mentioned above, most browsers allow you to check which cookies are installed on your device or to block them. The user can at any time, refuse, disable and remove the installation or future installation of cookies on your device by acting directly on the settings of your browser. In some cases, the failure to install a cookie may make it impossible to use the Site and some of its features.

Depending on the browser you are using, we invite you to check the instructions for disabling the installation of cookies. To this end, we report below the links of the various browsers where it is explained how to manage, verify and delete all or some cookies from your device:
